

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1 Conclusion

After conducted and analyzing Grice cooperative principle theory in terms of flouting maxims that been flouted in tv show The Big Bang Theory above, the researcher has the conclusion that four of maxim Grice mention in principle cooperative exist and indeed flouted by the characters on The Big Bang Theory by their utterance. From the analysis that the researcher been done in the previous chapter, it can be concluded that, flouting maxim Quantity occurs in the characters utterance when the character giving too much information to the speaker or the characters giving too little information. Flouting maxim of Quality that the utterance that contains maxim Quality is the utterance that does not contain the truth and often time there is no evidence to support the utterance that has been said. Next is flouting maxim of Relevance. The characters in this Tv show also oftentimes said utterance that most likely not have the relation to the topic of the conversation by being not clear to answer the speaker has said. And the last is flouting maxim of manner, were the utterance that the character said is oftentimes implied other meaning by being obscure in the conversation.

The ways of the characters flouting the maxim is vary, but only 4 ways that are used by the characters in the TV show The Big Bang Theory Season 4 with total 24 episodes to make it one of the best tv shows in US at the moment.

Being Irrelevant and ambiguous seems have the big interest of audience to like the tv show even more.

5.2 Suggestion

After doing this research, the researcher gives suggestions for the participant. The first is for linguistics students. Because is important to increase ability to know and recognized type of impoliteness that related with the factor that influenced, exactly in the context. Because of it is different context really gets different about the meaning. It's because language is very important to be studied. The second suggestion is for the other researcher that wants to research impoliteness strategies. All of finding in this research from whole data is influenced by context of communication in spoken communication about flouting maxim. Because of different context of communication will different finding in the data. For example : the data from utterance in film is really different result of the finding analysis with the data that taken from written communication such as facebook and instagram.
