

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGESSTION

5.1. Conclusion

Esteem need is a part of human nature that has essential element in human life. The theory that is supposed by Maslow available with the novel to fulfill the fourth stages in main character. After analyzing the esteem need by using a novel Catch Me If You can. The researcher made the conclusion that the fourth stage of esteem need was fake fulfilled by Frank. He is able to meet his esteem need through all a long journey with the fake identity.

From the explanation in the previous chapter, it can be concluded that his esteem need to get the confidence of Frank are described when Frank wore a Pan Am uniform. He got his confidence when he appeared at La Guardia airport used a best uniform pilot. He feels that really proud with himself and every people around him appreciate and respect to himself.

Next, ability and skill to fulfill the esteem need by Frank showed when Frank made manipulation with his aged. He applied his school to change his old to be older than before. He made a credible design graphic art. In this point, Frank received a great skill to fulfill the fake need.

The third adequate income to fill esteem needs of Frank was explained when Frank worked as assistant in the campus. He got the recommendation from Wilcox who need Frank joined with Wilcox's campus. Then Frank got high salary in annual. He felt satisfy with his income. So Frank received a high salary during he joined with Wilcox. Frank finally can fulfill his financial even though he lies to Wilcox.

Fourth is achievement for complete the esteem need by Frank. Frank has own way to get the great achievement in his live. He gets the achievement and popularity getting by criminal. He is a popular crook and professional as check forgery. And then when he was still twenty one year old, Frank was to be a millionaire. In the other hand, Frank can fulfill his need with much challenge that he does.

The last process to fulfill fake the esteem needs when Frank got some respect from other people, attention, and also recognition at La Guardia Airport. This is the important point by Frank to fulfill his need. He gets respect and esteem when he out from Airport. He gets the positive response from other people and the airline crews around the Airport exactly. Frank prefers to be a pilot because this profession bring him a dignity and esteem especially. In the other situation after Frank released from prison. He is more to be positive person and he applied all his knowledge to help banker employee solving the fraud check. His skill is very useful and helpful for them and he gets much appreciation from FBI agent. The conclusion from the concept of hierarchy of needs by Maslow is available with the novel. So the main character can fulfill the esteem need which is he gets the respect from other people after he changed his identity as pilot and after he release from prison. Frank more to be positive person. Finally, Frank's esteem need motive happens is his attitude towards other people that more respectable. He pushes his effort just to fulfill his desire to be a great people. Then, he becomes a popular imposter with the name of “skywayman” and his recorded in America history.

5.2. Suggestion

After doing the research, the researcher wants to give some suggestions for all reader. First of all for the literature students in Putera Batam University. The esteem need is very important point to fulfill of human desire. In the community especially for student, teacher, employee or parent. People need to hard work for meeting the needs. Second is for other researchers. The phenomena of esteem need in the novel can be found in other novel depend on the plot of the story. It is also can be found in another sources like drama or movie. In other case, theory about esteem needs comes from Abraham Maslow that suppose this concept to know about human desire till get the high level namely self-actualization. This theory is commonly used for analysis but the researcher can analysis into the specific item. Furthermore, it is can be recommended for other researcher to analysis esteem need with Maslow’s theory.
