

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the research has been done by the researcher, the researcher make conclusion about the phenomenon of speech act. Speech act is not always be found in the real life but also can be found in the movie. Speech act that analyzed by the researcher just about the request act and command act. The researcher used the theory of request by Trosborg and the theory of command by Holmes. In the collecting and analyzing the data the researcher used the method from Sudaryanto where the researcher used observation method in the collecting the data, and the researcher used pragmatic identity method in analyzing the data. From the analyzing the data, it can be concludes as follow:

1. There two types of request used in Rampage movie. There are indirect request and conventionally indirect (Speaker-Based Condition) which 2 data categorize as indirect request and 7 data categorize as conventionally indirect (Speaker-Based Condition)
2. There are one form of command that used in Rampage movie. It is Imperatives form. From 21 data categorize as command, 12 data used base form of verb of imperatives form, 5 data used you + imperatives form of imperatives form, 1 data used imperatives + modifier, and 3 data used let + first person pronoun of imperatives form.

5.2. Suggestion

From the analysis above the researcher wish the analysis about speech act will be able to do by the linguistics student in the next time. The researcher suggest for the next researcher be able to do the same research with the researcher now, so the phenomena of speech act can be further analyzed. From the analysis the researcher could not found the all types and the all forms in the movie. the researcher hope the next researcher will find the all types in their data.