CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION

5.1 Conclusion

This study looks into the notion of impoliteness. a reality show worked on by Netflix entitled The Hype House is the main data source for this research. The characters in the reality show use language or speech as part of the data analysis. In accordance with these findings, this study aims to identify the most frequently used strategies and functions of impoliteness in the reality show The Hype House. This suggests that the characters in reality shows are more concerned with making profanity out of their own conversations. The use of impoliteness is common in everyday conversation. People produce utterances to express their thoughts, and those utterances can be impolite by identifying certain words.

In the reality show The Hype House, positive impoliteness and negative impoliteness are the expressions most often used. Then, followed by entertaining impoliteness as the functions of impoliteness that are often used. This shows that the characters in reality shows tend to use profane language when talking to each other. Someone produces utterances to express their attitude of impoliteness through the utterances delivered.

5.2 Recommendation

In communication, impoliteness often occurs. it is a type of language that can be used in expressing something. In social interactions, we often find that impoliteness is used to express feelings of annoyance, anger and others. the aim of this researcher is to explain to the reader, as well as future researchers who may continue with this subject, that impoliteness can occur at any time according to the circumstances a person expresses it. When someone says disrespectful, then disharmony can occur in the relationship.

Furthermore, it is very helpful for students who are concerned with their English studies, where they can receive information in terms of studying pragmatics, namely impoliteness. The researcher advised to the reader for using this research as a reference for their study in the future. The researcher hopes that the readers are able to study impoliteness to understand and use it in speech and gain detailed additional knowledge.