

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the writer would provide two parts, conclusion and suggestion. In the conclusion part, the writer concludes the all of the research findings, and in the suggestion part the writer gives several suggestion for the next researcher who want to make the research study about illocutionary act that found in the movie.

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the findings and discussion in the previous chapter, the writer concludes that illocutionary act by Searle's theory are used in the Amazed By You movie by Mark Hannah (2017). All the types of illocutionary acts are used in the Amazed By You movie, with the percentages; Assertive happened in 15 utterances with the percentage 30%. In this type of illocutionary acts are mostly used by the characters of Amazed By You movie for stating, suggesting, boasting, complaining, and claiming. Directive happened in 17 utterances with the percentage 34%. In this type of illocutionary acts are mostly used by characters of Amazed by you movie for ordering, commanding, requesting, and advising. Expressive happened in 12 utterances with the percentage 24%. This type of illocutionary acts are mostly used by the characters of Amazed By You movie for thanking, blaming, praising, and condoling. Commissive happened in 5 utterances with the percentage 10%. In this type of illocutionary acts are mostly used by the characters of Amazed By You movie for promising and offering. Then, declaration happened in 1 utterance with the percentage 2%. In this type of illocutionary acts are mostly used by the characters of Amazed By You movie for appointing.

From all the types of illocutionary acts as found in the Amazed By You movie, the writer concludes with the percentages that directive is the most dominant or frequently of the types of illocutionary acts that happen in the Amazed By You movie with the total amount of 17 utterances or 34% with the perform of ordering, commanding, requesting, and advising.

5.2 Suggestion

In the part, the writer makes some suggestion to the reader and the next researcher of English student. For the reader, this paper can be used to increase knowledge and understanding about a speech acts theories. Then, it can be used to know about the meaning and the phenomena of illocutionary acts happen in the movie. For the further writer of English student who want to conduct a research study with the same topic about illocutionary acts that found in the movie, this paper can be use as the reference. And for the next writer who wants to do a research in different object but same topic, this paper can be used as an indicator. The writer hopes, the other writer can continue this research to make this research is better.